

JobTIPS

If you drive yourself to work, you need to:

Know how to get to your workplace.

Know how long it takes to get to your workplace (including time spent waiting in traffic).

Have enough gas in your car to get to work, or enough time to get gas on the way to work.

Have money for gas if needed.

Have a valid, current driver's license.

Make sure your car has passed inspection and is in good working condition.

Have up-to-date automobile insurance.

Cost: If you drive yourself, you need to pay for gas money and car insurance for your car. The amount of money needed for gas depends on how much gas prices are and how many miles you are driving. Make sure you have money for parking, if needed.
