

Sometimes I rock in my chair when I feel nervous. This rocking may look different and unusual to other people. When I am nervous, I can go to the break room and do my coping plan for 2-3 minutes. My coping plan will help calm me down so I can go back to work.

*A coping plan should accompany this story.